Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern,

Workspace Studio is one of the first collaborators to work with since we started out in 2016, so it's our pleasure to write this letter of recommendation.

In our company we speak our minds, so this is an opportunity for us to give our sincere opinion on the products purchased through our long-lasting partnership.

We like to live by the rule that we give the best to our employees and we expect the same in return. That is why one of our top picks for furnishing the working stations was Workspace Studio – more exactly the chairs that this company builds. Our employees really appreciate the Embody chair and we would recommend this chair for any professional who spends a lot of time at their desk.

The Embody chair is an eccentric looking chair, that features technology and styling that is very particular. It has so many features – such as adjustment for height, arms, back position etc. so you can always customize the chair according to your needs and body shape. We are really pleased with these ergonomic chairs.

In other aspects of our collaboration we can say that Workspace Studio never disappointed us – the personnel always helped us with information, they were prompt with the offers, responding to any requests, they always updated us on the orders and the chairs arrived on time and without any flaws.

Also, we appreciate the support we received with any issues that we've encountered (such as warranty), which is remarkable.

We would definitely recommend Workspace Studio to professionals and other companies that want to offer high-end work furniture for their employees.

Thank you for being our partners,

Leda Ripa

Office Manager at Sector Labs
