To whom it may concern,

I write this letter to recommend Workspace Studio to any company looking to improve the ergonomics and aesthetics of their offices.

Panasonic Romania called on Workspace Studio to furnish their new office. We had no previous relationship with them. During our first meeting Workspace Studio impressed us with their professionalism and know-how of the market which was a turning point in our decision to furnish our office with them.

Workspace Studio provided for Panasonic furniture and design elements that brought value and harmony in the office.

The ergonomics of the furniture improved the well-being of our co-workers and the design elements, logo, glass film and custom designed wallpaper, improved the aesthetics of our space while respecting our brand book guidelines.

Workspace Studio not only provided a custom solution for our office but they also involved our staff in a participative design process, thus creating a durable relationship between the office space and its users.

In conclusion I would highly recommend Workspace Studio to anyone looking for an office design and build solution.
